“For years NCN has supported Power Plant Ventures’ process of scouting early stage innovation across health & wellness with conferences and data/insights. The community of entrepreneurs and investors NCN brings together is high-quality and extremely valuable for initiating/maintaining strategic partnerships.

— Dan Gluck, Managing Partner, Powerplant Ventures

The NCN conferences are one of the premier networking events focused on innovative ingredient and CPG companies. The combination of entrepreneurs and investors that attend provide valuable insights into trends in the supplement, food and beverage markets. Several of our current portfolio companies were introduced to us at NCN events.

— Greg McParland, Investment Director, DSM
